

Go-To-Market Strategy

Building the GRC category in Malaysia and owning it

August – December 2026 · Five months

Right now, the market does not know four things

What VoronCitadel is

What GRC means

Why GRC matters

Why they need a platform

So the objective is

Build recognition, credibility and curiosity.

A prospect who cannot define GRC will never issue a tender for a GRC platform. Category education is the prerequisite for every deal that follows.

Three layers, nine initiatives

Each layer feeds the next. None of them works alone.

01

Credibility & Outreach

Borrow credibility and access we have not built yet from CSM and from partners.

RM 20k – 35k

02

Content, Media & PR

Teach the category at scale, on owned channels and earned coverage.

RM 75k – 140k

03

Events & Conversion

Put decision-makers in a room and turn interest into pipeline.

Credibility & Outreach

We are not yet known enough to open doors on our own name , so we borrow access.

01 No cost

CSM Letter of Intent

- Issued on CSM letterhead, signed by CSM representatives
- No fee to CSM
- Institutional credibility with government and GLC buyers
- Opens CSM's audience and event calendar to us

02 RM 20k – 35k

Account-based email outreach

- Five audiences: C-suite, CISO / CIO / CTO, Risk & Compliance, Internal Audit, warm contacts
- One tailored question per audience, never a product pitch
- Sourced via Sales Navigator , LinkedIn Pro and RocketReach.
- PDPA consent basis confirmed before any send

03 No upfront cost

Partner referral programme

- Technology partners, cybersecurity firms, consultants and system integrators who already sell into our accounts
- Referral fee paid from closed revenue , no upfront commission budget
- Introduce → Refer → Co-sell → Implement

The ask is never “Would you like to buy VoronCitadel?” it is “Would you be open to a 30-minute GRC readiness discussion?”

LinkedIn Sales Navigator → RocketReach → LinkedIn → HubSpot → Analytics

Ecosystem partner referral programme

Potentially our most scalable sales channel , partners already have the access we are trying to build.

Technology partners

Who already sells technology into our target accounts?

Cybersecurity partners

Who advises these organisations on cyber?

Consultants

Who does their risk and compliance work today?

System integrators

Who implements their enterprise systems?

Industry associations

Who has thousands of relevant members?

Government / GLC contacts

Who can make the introduction?

Content, Media & PR

Teach the category in public. Earn the right to sell.

04 RM 30k – 50k

LinkedIn thought leadership

- Four pillars: GRC awareness, risk, cyber governance, compliance
- One product post for every four educational posts
- Posted by named executives, amplified by the brand page

05 RM 15k – 30k

“GRC in 60 Seconds”

- Eight short episodes, one per fortnight from September
- Filmed in a single day to keep production cost near zero
- Every episode ends with the same call to action

06 RM 30k – 60k

PR - BFM Radio

- Build the story around the problem, then introduce VoronCitadel
- Angles: GRC as a boardroom issue · cyber governance beyond IT · from spreadsheets to digital GRC
- Optional add-on: a Malaysian GRC readiness survey as a citable data asset

Every post, episode and interview closes the same way: book a GRC Readiness Assessment.

LinkedIn thought leadership content posting

LinkedIn is our primary owned channel but a feed of product posts will not build authority.

1

GRC Awareness

What is GRC? Why does it matter? Who owns it inside the organisation?

2

Risk

Organisational risks leadership routinely overlooks.

3

Cyber Governance

Why cybersecurity is not only an IT issue.

4

Compliance

What happens when compliance becomes reactive.

5

VoronCitadel (used sparingly)

Roughly one product post for every four educational posts. Earn the right to sell.

Digital – Social Media “GRC in 60 Seconds”

Five months, so judge these in December , not in September. Layers 01 and 02 will look quiet until October and that is expected.
